

About Me

I'm a family-oriented person who values living life with positivity. Exploring new destinations and engaging in outdoor activities bring me joy. I find joy in trying new experiences and making sure everyone around me is happy.

Originating from a moderate New Delhi family, I appreciate modern thinking with traditional values.

I desire a partner who is understanding, respectful and enjoys life.

Open-mindedness and progressive thinking are qualities I prioritize, alongside mutual respect for each other's personal space and values.
